THE KAPPA ALPHA THETA MAGAZINE

THE COVER: The long, lovely, lazy days of summer are almost here. Kathy Blind, Theta at Northwestern University took the pictures we think will remind you of the happy, fun times ahead. Her models are two Theta sisters, Linda Hunter shown off for a bike ride with Hugh Gottschalk and Karen Eliasson resting on the tennis court between sets, with Doug Conant. Nevertheless the girls too, like Thetas everywhere, will be busy thinking ahead to that all-important season of Fall Rush. We hope this annual Rush Flyer and Directory will both help and inspire you to Keep Theta's Kite Flying!

The Year in Review, 1973-1974

◆ It is a pleasure to report to the membership that this past year has seen a decided increase in the interest in fraternity, in the number pledged and initiated, and in general chapter strength. There have been positive reports of the Greek system in the news media and a renewing of old ties between fraternities and college and university administrations. Figures as of 4-1-74.

Membership

The total number of members grew during the year to 90,717. In our 94 college chapters, 2492 were pledged and 2106 were initiated. A year ago 2496 were pledged and 2343 initiated.

General Trends

A noticeable move toward specific career oriented education rather than the traditional liberal arts . . . advisory boards attracting younger personnel . . . awareness and appreciation of the alumnae role by the collegiates . . . tight chapter budgets with fewer social functions . . . a definite move away from apartment living . . . a dramatic change in house occupancy—chapter houses which were partially filled a year ago are bulging at the seams . . . car pools are becoming a way of life with alumnae . . . most alumnae groups report the involvement of a larger percentage of available alumnae although collecting of dues remains a problem . . . the most popular fund raising project among alumnae chapters is the Santa's Workshop which has been highly successful everywhere it has been tried . . . chapters in smaller communities enlist the support of their Panhellenic friends for a joint project . . . contact with college members is the most rewarding activity of most alumnae groups . . . more positions of responsibility being taken by recently graduated alumnae in their chapters and clubs . . . an increasing number of college and university administrations are interested in securing persons with fraternity background as Panhellenic advisers . . . more favorable publicity from some college administrators . . . increasing interest in small group experience on many campuses. NPC Sta- tistics June '71-'73: 93 new college chapters installed . . . 26 colonies . . . 267 new alumnae groups organized . . . 91,820 new members added to 26 NPC groups.

Publications

KAPPA ALPHA THETA MAGAZINE, under the direction of Jane Rodgers Ratcliffe, continues its coverage of all aspects of the fraternity and the four issues each year are now mailed to some 69,000 Thetas . . . the Ritual Book with minor revisions and a new format has been distributed . . . two issues of the Kite Flyer have gone to all chapters, clubs and fraternity officers . . . three issues of the Bulletin, official medium for notes and reports have been sent . . . plans are being made to publish three editions of the Convention Kite during the Grand Convention.

Finances and Housing

The fraternity, its chapters, house corporations and alumnae groups have experienced the same problems in making ends meet as have other groups which depend on dues, fees and other fixed charges for financing their necessary activities. Each one of us individually during the past years of inflation and rising costs for essentials has been challenged to evolve practical ways of stretching our fixed income to cover spiraling costs.

At Grand Convention, each delegate received a complete financial statement for the past biennium with current information on all income and all expenditures by the fraternity from its General Treasury, Chapter Loan Fund and Friendship Fund. If you were not at Convention, do arrange to borrow a report copy so that you may have a full picture of fraternity finances.

Since this is an era of changing monetary policies and economic development, your fraternity officers would be remiss if they were not constantly reviewing and reevaluating the present fraternity programs in the light of both advantages and costs.

Concurrently with campus changes, we find that eighty per cent of our houses are at full capacity in occupancy. Some even have long waiting lists for any vacancy occurring. This is "good news" not only for financial stability but, more importantly, for the fostering of the fraternity ideal of a family type living group.

As long as the Greek system preserves the integrity of purpose and adherence to proven worthwhile goals, it will remain with us as a force for good on our campuses. Theta, too, will persevere and manage to find answers for the mundane problems of money and economics.

Foundation

A new Community Involvement project has been adopted in which any individual Theta or any chapter or club may apply for a grant to tax-exempt charities with which Thetas are involved in their own home communities; grants are at least $1,000 and the first awards were made at the Grand Convention . . . six $750 graduate scholarships were awarded to Thetas . . . four $1,000 Founders' Scholarships were awarded to undergraduate Thetas . . . two $1,500 graduate fellowships were awarded at Convention for the 1974-75 academic year . . . the $400 Kansas City Alumnae Chapter Scholarship was given to a Kansas City Theta . . . the Helen Amor Tyson Fund and the Lanning-Beta Eta Fund provided a $400 scholarship to a Theta resident of the State of Pennsylvania . . . the Institute of Logopedics received $26,000 . . . the Foster Parents' Plan has been discontinued as a Foundation philanthropy . . . there will no longer be a membership drive but all Thetas are urged to become Life Members under three plans: payment of $1,000, ten $100 payments, or documentation of a bequest for $1,000 in a will . . . to the extent that contributions from chapters, clubs and individuals allow, the Foundation will fund certain educational projects of the fraternity.

Miscellaneous

Marjorie Beebe McAdams is serving as Acting Executive Secretary-Treasurer and supervising our most able staff in the business operation of the fraternity . . . donations to the Friendship Fund totalled $5,043.22 for the year and 3 gifts were given in the amount of $2,000 . . . nine loans to undergraduates were made from the Student Loan Fund in the amount of $4,050 . . . there are 87 alumnae chapters, newest of which is Evansville, Indiana . . . there are 227 alumnae clubs . . . there are 525 Rush Recommendation Boards and 465 Authorized Rush Representatives with some 2,000 alumnae involved in their work . . . because of the great number of resident members in California, six State Chairmen have been named to keep records . . . 457 pansy pins were sent to 50-year Thetas and a total of 44 75-year awards have been made.

Needs

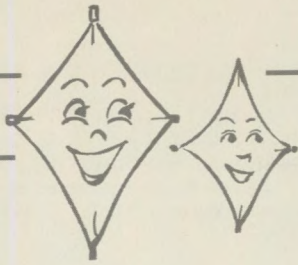

Need for Theta alumnae for either full or part-time work in Central Office . . . women living in the Evanston area who are interested should call Mrs. James McAdams at 869-1160 . . . for qualified housemothers, anyone interested in this work should write Mrs. Loran Hendrickson, 3210 Cherry Park South, Grand Forks, ND 58201.

Need for continued support of the fraternity through contributions to the Leadership Fund (send to P.O. Box 522, San Pedro, CA 90733) . . . through service on advisory and house corporation boards . . . through becoming dues paying members of alumnae chapters and clubs . . . through the submission of early voluntary recommendations to Rush Recommendation Boards.

In conclusion I would like to extend warmest thanks to the thousands of you who give so much of yourselves to Kappa Alpha Theta and to remind every Theta that our entire operation is wholly dependent on you. If we are to continue to hold a place of honor in the fraternity world, we need your interest and support. There is no one to count on but ourselves.

This has been a happy year and one which has made us aware that our efforts during the recent "down" period have been repaid. Let each of us, then, dedicate ourselves to sharing in some small way to building for the future.

MARTHA S. WHITE, Grand President

Good News

50 Year Thetas Return to Campus

CALIFORNIA-LOS ANGELES—Last quarter Beta Xi chapter spent an evening flashing back to the days of Theta when it entertained several of its 50-year Theta alumnae for dinner. The conversations were lively throughout the evening but the highlight was the individual recollections by each lady of her experiences in Kappa Alpha Theta. Then the skirts were longer, the campus was smaller, and the sororities and fraternities were the driving force behind UCLA's social life. Times have changed and sororities with them, but the women who were a part of them then, play parts just as important today.—SUSAN WILLIAMS.

OKLAHOMA STATE—This semester, Thetas decided to actively support the OSU Varsity football team. As boosters, we sent brownies to the players, worked as hostesses at a reception for parents after a major home game, plastered signs of Good Luck throughout the athletic dorm halls during Homecoming, and sent individual notes to each player. As a finishing touch, "giant," home-made, chocolate chip cookies (our Student Union's specialty), iced with "Yea, OSU" were sent to team members and coaches. The appreciation expressed by the team and coaches proves this one of our most successful and, of course, FUN projects.—SARA MULLER.

A Rewarding Hallowe'en

SAN DIEGO STATE—Thanks to Colette Ficovich, activities chairman, this past year found the Gamma Sigma Chapter very involved in service projects. Top on the list was a Hallowe'en party given for underprivileged children. Helped by our brother fraternity, the SAE's, this party was a great success which brightened the lives of many children and Thetas alike. Not only were there apple bobbing and games of all sorts, but also a witch pinata and a scary spook house, designed by a talented Theta, Laurie Fleming. Thanks to the efforts of many, this Hallowe'en party turned out to be a rewarding success.—KATHY ZIMMERMAN.

LOUISIANA—This year our most worthwhile project was "Meals On Wheels." "Meals On Wheels" is a Community Advancement Inc. sponsored program designed to provide nutritious meals to disabled senior citizens who cannot prepare their own. One day a week two Thetas are given a route to follow and two insulated ice chests with a hot and cold meal inside to deliver to eight shut-ins. Delta Kappa also takes pride in the fact that it is the only sorority out of 17 contacted that is involved. The chapter has enjoyed "Meals On Wheels" and plans to continue it.—CHRIS KELLY.

Our Kite Keeps Us Flying High

OREGON STATE—Our house turns to music twice a week as we rehearse with the Sigma Nu's for the annual IFC Sing to be performed during Moms' Weekend in May. Last year 15 living groups, mostly Greeks, participated. We sang to second place with Delta Tau Delta.

Sophomores plan our KAT Nap which takes place every year. Saying good-night to a date at midnight, rushing home and changing into big sister-little sister matching pajamas starts the fun! Awards are presented to each girl for some unusual or outstanding attribute such as studying the most, watching the most TV, or having 'the most boyfriends, etc. Skits are performed and lots of cookies consumed. Tired but closer KATS hit the sleeping porch at 2 A.M.—ANN DANEKE.

Theta Stands Out

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA—In the past few months the Thetas of Troy have had several awards presented to the house and to several individual girls. The USC Thetas have shown great enthusiasm for the women's athletic events this past year and as a result were presented with the University Recreation Association Trophy, an award given to one of the participating sorority, dorm or commuter student groups for achieving the most points in all athletic events.

We are also proud of two Thetas, Karen Kennedy and Suzy McGhee for having been chosen as USC Panhellenic officers—Karen to the office of Assistant Rush Chairman and Suzy to the office of Treasurer. Three more Thetas, Carolyn Clark, Cherly Loftis and Susie Hahn also have been selected as Song Girls for 1974.—CHRISTINE MARIE COX.

NORTH CAROLINA—Delta Xi started the new year with a totally new type of rush—completely informal. Free to do anything we wished, we kicked it off with a somewhat sticky taffy pull, and ended with a casino party complete with roulette wheels, poker, blackjack and play money. The atmosphere was relaxed, less hectic than formal rush and easier on both sisters and rushees.

Other Delta Xi events this year: Senior Lorri Dillon was elected Homecoming Queen; Grand President Mrs. White stopped in for a visit; Delta Xi won the Most Improved Scholarship award from Panhellenic Council.—MARY NEWSOM.

'Rock Chalk,' Rush Promote Spirit

KANSAS—Enthusiasm for the Greek system continues to grow at K.U., as an unprecedented number of girls participated in Panhellenic rush, held Jan. 10-15. The

Thetas pledged 28 outstanding girls, generally acknowledged as the best new pledge class on Mt. Oread. Greek spirit is also high for the eight fraternities and sororities producing "Rock Chalk Revue," a series of skits presented by various campus living groups. The team of Kappa Alpha Theta-Beta Theta Pi was chosen to participate over nearly 10 other entries with their skit entitled "What's New in Orleans and All That Jazz." Kappa chapter is anticipating an exciting spring semester working with "Rock Chalk" and the new pledges. —MARY ANN HUDDLESTON.

Gung-ho Greeks!

EMORY—On our campus the spirit of both the Greek system as a whole and the Delta Zeta Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta has increased throughout the year. Sororities have accomplished their long awaited dream of building townhouse lodges in which to meet and grow. In attaining this goal, they have earnestly worked together as one spirit. Having a "home of our own," has also brought a greater degree of unity to the Theta Chapter. On a campus where there are no major inter-collegiate sports to unite the student body, the Greek system has become the backbone of many extracurricular activities. —NANCY L. HICKEY.

A Theta Get-Together

NEWCOMB—One special event for the Alpha Phi chapter this year was hosting the L.S.U. Thetas in New Orleans for a day of games, kite flying, and a barbecue in the park. The games consisted of relay races, a tug-of-war, and egg and balloon tosses between the two pledge classes, and between actives and pledges. Pledges made and decorated kites and prizes were awarded for the prettiest kite and first kite in the air. This was a fun day for everyone and it provided an opportunity for the two chapters to get acquainted as well as bringing actives and pledges of both chapters together. —JANIE PACE.

Happiness Is . . . A Visitor

KANSAS STATE—During fall rush 1973, Delta Eta had a very exciting guest, Mrs. Dorothy Heard, Grand Vice-President of Finance, stay with us. She contributed a sense of spirit, participation, and enthusiasm. During rush tour day at the house, Mrs. Heard dressed in an Oriental costume corresponding with our Oriental theme. She enjoyed the daily activities of the Thetas including the favorite eating places and was also entertained by the Manhattan alumnae. When it was time for Mrs. Heard to leave, the whole chapter, including new pledges, surprised her by being out at the airport singing our favorite Theta songs. —MARGO SHELLENBERGER.

The Queen of Hearts

KENTUCKY—Donna Scott, Theta's "Christmas Seals Girl" raised a grand total of $789 and was first runner-up in the Christmas Seals Drive sponsored by the Kentucky Lung Association. Each sorority is given three days to collect as many pennies as possible to donate to the Heart Fund, with the winner selected on the basis of the weight of the coins. The winner is announced at a Sock Hop following the event. Staci Worthington will represent Theta for the 1974 Heart Fund drive which is sponsored on campus by the Kentuckian, our university newspaper.—EILEEN CORRIGAN and MARY HELEN DUNN.

The Greek System Is Alive and Well

IDAHO—The feeling on campus toward the Greek System is extremely positive. Last fall we had 50 girls over the limit needed, sign up for rush. Greeks find time for many student activities. Many are involved in student government, offices and committees. Also, student publications on campus number many Greeks on their respective staffs. Students also participate in a campus community chest week to encourage donations.

Because Greeks show an interest in many activities, the reason for gaining respect is clearly indicated.—KITTY BUTLER.

FLORIDA STATE—Beta Nu has gained significant progress under the direction of Rush Chairman Anne Balistreri. Through her plans, winter rush parties have made big news on the campus of Florida State University. The parties were extremely successful with music, games and laughs. The spice of an Italian dinner hit the spot for actives and rushees alike.

The result was the pledging of 11 great girls—the most of any sorority. And the best result of all, was the fact that all rushees at F.S.U. know now that “Our” Kappa Alpha Theta fun is real and so is the love!—CINDY L. CHEEK.

WASHINGTON—The Kappa Alpha Theta alumnae in Pullman are few, with each wearing several “hats.” This is one of the reasons says Margery Muir (Mrs. Earl L.) for her undertaking duties as both Corporation Treasurer and Rush Adviser for Alpha Sigma. In recognition of the outstanding efforts of all Pullman alumnae during rush, throughout the school year and in the summer, the Alpha Sigmas are sending Mrs. Muir to National Convention in mid-June. She will be representing an especially unified group of alumnae and appreciative Alpha Sigma actives.—LAURIE MADSON and LISA GURVICH.

UTAH—There was good news for Thetas when we held our annual Parents’ Weekend in February, and had a chance to let our moms and dads in on some of the Delta Lambda happy times.

The three-day festivities began with everyone watching the “Runnin’ Utes” run all over the University of New Mexico basketball team on Friday night. Saturday, the girls hosted their parents and dates to an evening of dining and dancing on the town. A luncheon Sunday afternoon capped the weekend when we presented special moments of Kappa Alpha Theta. It gave parents, some from Salt Lake, some from all corners of the country, a chance to see and participate with their daughters in the warmth of Theta at Utah.—HELEN LACKO.

Greeks and Faculty Interact

OHIO STATE—Finding the activity both worthwhile and fun, Alpha Gamma is planning its second annual “Professor Night.”

Ohio State President, Harold L. Enarson and 30 university professors were our guests at an informal program demonstrating what Greek life is all about. Girls asked the professors of their choice because they had enjoyed their courses or wanted to strengthen friendships made in previous quarters.

In a university as large as Ohio State it is often difficult for students and professors to interact. Thetas thought that an activity such as our “Professor Night” would not only strengthen student-teacher ties, but also help promote a stronger Greek sentiment on campus.—ANN URIG.

Cooperation: The New Catalyst of Greek Spirit

MISSOURI—The stiff individual competition among Greeks in the past has recently melted to a point where everyone’s trying to help each other so that the whole Greek system can become stronger. A dance marathon to raise money for muscular dystrophy was sponsored this year by all sororities and the Interfraternity Council. Also, to promote Greek spirit off campus as well as on, Greek Week activities this spring will include community alumni.

For fall rush, Panhellenic hopes to put up pro-Greek billboards in the yard of every house. They will cover homecoming activities, scholarship, philanthropies, etc., emphasizing that girls can be happy in more than one house.—CINDY POLLARD.

Ways and Means to a Successful Rush

Has rush changed from the 1870's? Obviously it has, if we speak of new customs and methods! What is the nature of the change: superficial or fundamental? What were the objectives of those early Thetas when they sought new members? Our recorded history reveals their aim of choosing those who would appreciate and promote the fraternity standards and goals, thus filling the need of compatibility in the broad sense while leaving free access to the avenue of individual growth. Have our fraternity's basic standards and goals changed over the last century? A review of our rituals produces a negative answer. It is the retention of these high values and aspirations, rather than following the easier path that descends to an average plateau, which has maintained Kappa Alpha Theta in strength and in respect for 104 years. Experience—not opinion—proves that the chapters which forget to use careful thought and perceptive planning in choosing those who see value in Theta standards find problems ahead. Successful membership selection means more than filling quota. It has its scientific aspects, and the heart is needed, too, guided by the continuing goals for cultured womanhood.

Findings by the rush chairmen and rush advisers which appear in the following pages merit attention. We wish that space were available to add the excellent tips which many others can provide, and we hope that these will be voluntarily offered.—LUCILE MOORE GARRETT, Member-at-Large (Membership Selection)

Marcia Gravette

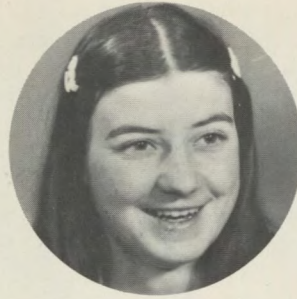

Marcia Gravette, rush chairman for Beta Xi, U.C.L.A.

1. What do you consider the necessary factors for a successful rush? "Organization and total unity among all members of the chapter. If everyone is happy and has a good attitude, this warmth will radiate to the rushees without any effort. Happiness and unity result from all members having an important part in rush and feeling confident that they are doing the best job that they can."

2. How can a chapter sell Theta? "Rushees are intuitive about which groups are 'putting on a show' for a week and which are sincerely showing their true selves. At Beta Xi we try to be as natural as possible, in hopes that through our sincerity and friendship we will get girls that like us for what we really are. Otherwise, you get girls who aren't satisfied with their decisions."

3. What qualities does your chapter seek in prospective members, and how are these qualities measured in order to make wise selections? "We are seeking 'unique' individuals . . . girls who have something to offer Theta and to whom Theta will have something to offer. Because we have such great alumnae boards in our area, recommendations play a very important part in measuring the qualities of a girl. At the beginning of rush we also make a list of qualities, voted on by chapter members, to help guide us in looking for the girls we want as future members. This list is very helpful in that it keeps everyone straight as to what we are striving for and in keeping our chapter balanced. If a girl is questionable we ask, 'Does she have all of these qualities?'"

4. In your opinion, what most influences a rushee's choice of groups? "In the past I think rushees were influenced by groups which had the nicest living conditions. I don't feel this factor is of prime importance any more. Now girls are attracted to the groups where they feel most comfortable. They want to choose a group from which they can benefit as well as make contributions. They realize now that their successful college careers depend upon happiness and security in one's environment. This feeling stems from friendship more than from a nice room."

5. Are good grooming and mode of dress still important in rush? "To an extent, yes. Good grooming, of course, is always important. It reflects the attitude of the girl about herself. Dress for rush has become very informal the past few years. Because September is one of our hottest months, the primary requirement is to be comfortable! This can mean anything from long to short dresses, to pants or shorts. The only thing we don't wear is jeans."

6. What mistakes should be avoided in rush and membership selection? "Do as much as can be done before rush. This leaves time to do the last minute necessities so that no major problems will occur. As many recommendations for girls as possible . . . especially for girls that our members know are going through rush . . . should be acquired prior to rush. Just by getting the recommendation and having it on hand many hurt feelings and mistakes can be alleviated. It should also be emphasized during rush that you must have a positive opinion on every girl you meet. There can be no 'wishy-washiness' or indecision. She either belongs or doesn't; there can be no in-betweens."

Candy Phillips, rush chairman for Beta Chi, University of Alberta.

1. What do you consider the necessary factors for a successful rush? "Lots of pre-planning with as many members as possible. The sooner the schedule is drawn up the faster everyone can begin to work on the preparations needed. All parties should be organized by a committee head and people working under her . . . Overall enthusiasm, friendliness and sincerity are the biggest factors that provide a successful rush. If the whole chapter works together it can form an appealing picture to the new rushees."

2. How can a chapter sell Theta? "One of the main ways is showing all rushees that Theta is not just a social function. There are many serious aspects which attract people who want to gain from these. Scholarship, Panhellenic, philanthropy, and sisterhood are areas that should be stressed to enable rushees to see what Theta has to offer. Members should be themselves. A variety of areas such as fun, friendship, sports, big and little sisters, etc., can be used to show the rushees Theta as we see it."

3. What qualities does your chapter seek in prospective members, and how are these qualities measured in order to make wise selections? "Our chapter looks at prospective rushees to determine who wants to be involved . . . who are willing to contribute their time and efforts toward Theta. We also look for people who have the ability to communicate and work with other people . . . who really want to become members and are not out for the social side. They must have the essential academic standings that we uphold . . . the ability to get along with other people . . . and must process the moral standards that our chapter upholds and admires."

4. What most influences a rushee's choice of groups? "The main influence is how sincere all chapter members are toward the rushee. We must display openness and friendliness toward each rushee as well as showing a real interest in her as a person. A rushee tends to be swayed by finding her own interests represented in the chapter, such as sports participation, etc. If the chapter itself shows great spirit and togetherness, the rushee will be influenced in that she would like to become a part of what the chapter has. If the rushees feel that they belong and are wanted, it has a great influence on their choice of groups. Make them feel right at home!"

5. Are good grooming and mode of dress still important in rush? "During rush it is important for all members to be well groomed and clean in appearance and dress because this is the type of girl we are looking for. The chapter's appearance will let the rushees know the kind of appearance that is presentable. You can be sure that those who take care of themselves will be assets to your group because they will be neat in the work they do."

6. What mistakes should be avoided in rush

and membership selection? "... Too long a rush program. This year, because we had open rush for the first time, our program was six weeks long . . . which was hard on the chapter as well as on rushees. Make sure that all parties, etc. are well organized in advance. Main mistake of membership selection: not all members get to know the rushee or what she is capable of in regard to responsibility and work habits. Everyone has to know all rushees to enable the selections to be fair to the chapter."

Marjorie Swaim, rush adviser for Gamma Omega, Auburn University.

1. What do you consider the necessary factors for a successful rush? "Teamwork and detailed pre-planning. Rush chairmen must work together with the rush adviser (s), and this teamwork then spreads to committee chairmen, committee members and the whole chapter. Rush seems to be one place where it becomes essential for the right hand to know what the left is doing, for more reasons than one: the chairmen don't overlap responsibilities; everyone is working to the utmost efficiency; there is no complaint due to ignorance of someone not fulfilling her assigned duties; time is not wasted restating things already mentioned or to be mentioned by another chairman; each knows what is or isn't being taken care of by another sister and can work from there. The pre-planning should include as many minute details as possible and should begin the moment the new rush chairman takes office so that at the end of spring and fall workshops and when rush officially begins absolutely everything that can be done has been done."

2. How can a chapter sell Theta? "The selling, per se, of Theta may not necessarily be up to a specific chapter, for incoming students have already had varying degrees of exposure to Theta through hometown alumnae, news-

DIRECTIONS FOR USE OF RUSH RECOMMENDATION DIRECTORY

IN GENERAL: Rush registration lists are often issued late, if at all, and therefore interested girls may not be known to college chapters. Alumnae help is urgently needed in order for our chapters to maintain their high caliber of membership.

CONTENTS OF RUSH DIRECTORY:

- Rush Recommendation Boards listed by state with the Theta State Chairman given for each state.
- College chapter Rush Chairmen and Rush Advisers.

ALUMNAE:

- Write recommendations on authorized white rush forms (or on printed form, p. 9, with letter attached).
- Send to Rush Recommendation Board serving the area in which the rushee lives.
- Send in time for processing by Rush Board so the college chapter will receive them before rush.
- If there is no Rush Board in that area, send completed form to the college chapter Rush Chairman.
- Your voluntary recommendations are the most valuable and are most useful if received in advance of rush.
- All recommendations should be submitted to college chapters as soon as possible:

no later than August 1 for chapters with fall rush
no later than Sept. 15 for chapters with deferred rush

COLLEGE CHAPTERS:

- Green sheets from Rush Boards must be accompanied by a completed white rush form.
- Recommendations from Authorized Rush Representatives are on the white forms and do not require green sheets, as the pink slip which may be attached indicates.
- All white rush forms from alumnae for girls who do not live in a Rush Board area are legal, with Rush Adviser's approval.
- Please remember to acknowledge the receipt of recommendations.
- If you must solicit a recommendation for a rushee:
 - Direct the request to the person listed for her town or area in the Rush Directory or in the list of Authorized Rush Representatives the chapter has received from Central Office.
 - If there is no one listed, request names of alumnae in the area from the State or Province Chrm.
 - If you receive no reply from alumnae in a reasonable length of time, contact the Alumnae District President through your Rush Adviser.

COMPLETE COOPERATION among individual alumnae, Rush Boards and college chapters is essential to guarantee the smooth operation of our recommendation procedures. It is the privilege of alumnae to sponsor qualified rushees; it is the privilege of college chapters to select from those recommended to them.

Quotation for Summer

*"Grow old along with me,
the best is yet to be,
the last of life for which the first was made."*—Robert Browning

DECISIONS, DECISIONS! They're [REDACTED] gray hair, make strong men weep and add nightmares to already troubled sleep. [REDACTED] Office Marge McAdams is struggling over blueprints, diagrams and measurements [REDACTED] for personnel, files and monstrous stacks of supplies that must be transferred across the street when we make our move in August to smaller quarters. The problem is space, and the lack of it universally (except for astronauts, cosmonauts and UFO's) can be truly devastating.

While Marge has been having her problems, so has your editor. Each year the Rush Recommendation Directory and the Theta Directory increase in amount of copy. Yet the number of available pages remains the same. So it is never easy to make the decision as to what is to be included and what will have to be left out. For this Summer Issue it became a choice of printing the Rush Symposium or the list of Straight "A" Thetas. After much thought we decided the Symposium was particularly appropriate for the Summer Issue while the Straight "A"s would fit into the format of the Autumn, 1974 Magazine, along with the College Honors listing. We hope most of you will agree with us. It was the best we could do.

Death when it comes, should be glad remembrance and celebration of Love.

In Loving

★ In the death of Margaret (Monnie) Killen Banta, the fraternity has lost one of its most illustrious Thetas. A charter member of Alpha Psi Chapter at Lawrence University, Monnie continued her involvement with Theta throughout her lifetime. Serving in many capacities from District President, National Panhellenic Delegate and Grand Vice-President, she is the only Grand President to have served three terms. Throughout the years her will to serve, her indomitable spirit to give unstintingly of herself never wavered. Remembered for her wisdom, her tact and loyal adherence to high principles, she inspired her many associates and helped clarify fraternity position in the public mind.

A highlight of every convention was always Monnie's presence and participation. At the 1970 Centennial Convention she was the last person to sit down when the roll was called. For Monnie it was her 22nd and this in itself is no doubt a record that will endure. This year at Theta's 51st Convention at Mountain Shadows in Arizona, Monnie Banta will not be among us in person. But her spirit will still be there, radiating her loyal enthusiasm for the Theta she loved.

paper publicity, college-age friends, relatives and Panhellenic parties. However, the formal rush 'selling' involves sincerity and courtesy to the rushees; a personal knowledge of and involvement in Theta by each sister; and that intrinsic pride and sisterhood within the chapter."

3. What qualities does your chapter seek in prospective members, and how are these qualities measured in order to make wise selections? "Compatibility, character, scholarship, interest in campus involvement. We are not looking for a particular 'type' of person because that makes it easy to become a stereotyped sorority. We seek members who can share the same ideas, ideals, and standards as to scholarship, morality, goals and priorities (both for herself and for the group). Of course personal impressions of a rushee are basic, but when measuring the above qualities we rely heavily on the recommendations, the opinion of sisters who may personally know a rushee and the established minimums set by members as to scholarship and activities whereby a rushee will not be considered if these areas are weak."

4. In your opinion, what most influences a rushee's choice of groups? "It is every sorority's hope that a rushee will choose a sorority with which she will feel most comfortable, and I'm sure the majority of rushees do so. Along with this goes living quarters, family and hometown influences, and the chapter reputation (both on campus and in the rushee's hometown)."

5. Are good grooming and mode of dress still important in rush? "Yes, especially for the sorority members. Rushees, especially incoming freshmen, often expect a sorority member to be just a little special in her dress and grooming. However, in general less emphasis is being placed on dressing alike since each member wishes to maintain her individuality."

6. What mistakes should be avoided in rush and membership selection? "Don't underestimate the importance of doing your best in order to insure getting the finest possible pledge class. Don't dwell on negatives. Rush, and especially MS meetings, is a time when it is vital to be courteous toward one's sisters and charitable toward each rushee. Avoid becoming overtired; this has a subtle ability to break up chapter unity. Be careful of over or underworking any particular member, causing unnecessary friction between members. And always, always remember to say please, thank-you, and smile!"

Kathy Conroy, rush chairman for Alpha Gamma, Ohio State.

1. What do you consider the necessary factors for a successful rush? "Organization in every respect, including rush chairmen who fully realize their responsibilities and lay down a plan of action; party chairmen selected carefully for their abilities to execute their rush party ideas; organized and interesting rush schools. Communication: between rush chairmen and advisers, party chairmen, chapter, Panhellenic and between rush chairmen themselves. Involvement: by involving everyone, in even the smallest jobs, cooperation will be better because they will feel they have an extra special responsibility and an added part of rush."

2. How can a chapter sell Theta? "To sell Theta successfully, chapter members have to be sold on Theta themselves. By instilling pride through initial pledge programs and further strengthening it through various chapter goals and activities, members can, in turn, sell Theta to the rushee in an enthusiastic and sincere manner. We urge members to relate personal experiences with Theta to the rushee."

3. What qualities does your chapter seek in prospective members, and how are these qualities measured in order to make wise selections? "Individuals who through their own identity and contributions can further enhance our goals of seeking the best in womanhood, a propagation of the fraternity's ideas of higher social, intellectual, and moral growth."

4. In your opinion, what most influences a rushee's choice of groups? "Honesty and sincerity and a personal approach to rush—treating the rushee as an individual."

5. Are good grooming and mode of dress still important in rush? "Yes, though we (and other groups) play down the dress-up idea. Rushees are just as conscious of making a favorable impression as the sorority is. Feeling that your personal appearance is favorable is a great psychological confidence factor."

6. What mistakes should be avoided in rush and membership selection? "Quick pre-judgment. Time factor is so crucial in rush and selection. You have to strive for a perfect medium between being too quick to judge and too lenient. We try to stress the importance of (and the difficulty in) detaching emotions from reasoning during membership selection. At Alpha Gamma our MS meetings run as smoothly as possible because of great chapter response, cooperation and understanding."

Jerry Harris

Alice Carpenter and Jerry Harris, co-rush advisers for Alpha Mu, University of Missouri.

1. What do you consider the necessary factors for a successful rush? "Plenty of well-written recommendations from alumnæ; organization; cooperation and enthusiasm within the chapter. Complete, informative recommendations from alumnæ who have researched their communities are essential to successful rush. In order to utilize them and to pledge the preferred rushees, the chapter must be well organized many months in advance of rush. In spring at Alpha Mu, each person is assigned specific responsibilities for the following fall formal rush. Throughout rush, everyone is aware that she must think and give of herself enthusiastically for the good of Kappa Alpha Theta, not just for her own or even the chapter's preference. The degree to which each person lives up to her own responsibilities determines the success of rush."

2. How can a chapter sell Theta? "As pleasant individuals living within a cohesive group. To Alpha Mu actives, stressing the variety of interests and types of girls who compose the chapter is important. To be positive about Greek life they feel they must combat the rushees' fears of being molded and becoming stereotyped. They attempt to demonstrate both versatility and cohesion through their skits and through a method of rotation which would allow a rushee to meet every girl in the chapter if rush parties were long enough. By being attentive to each rushee without overpowering her, members attempt to convey a pleasant, relaxed atmosphere where people are genuinely concerned about each other's welfare."

3. What qualities does your chapter seek in prospective members, and how are these qualities measured in order to make wise selections? "Scholarship, personality, character, leadership, and versatility. Except in unusual cases, a rushee with lower than B grades in high school is not expected to have time to contribute to any activities, including sorority living. Therefore, she is not rushed. Personality is primarily defined as willingness to contribute to groups and is measured by contributions the rushee has made to her school and community prior to coming to college. High moral and ethical standards (good character) are evaluated by the people who have known the rushee a long time, both actives and alumnæ. Pledging leaders makes it easier to have strong chapter and campus leaders. Versatility enables Alpha Mu to be, perhaps, a more cohesive group than a chapter composed of talented specialists. Again, these are measured by people who are well acquainted with the rushee."

4. In your opinion, what most influences a rushee's choice of groups? "Being a state institution, the University of Missouri draws students primarily from specific geographical areas year after year. Consequently, the most influential factor in many a rushee's choice is the reputation of a sorority in her home community. This may be the reputation and influence of both alumnæ and college members in various college chapters. Rushees with little previous knowledge of sororities are most influenced by the general atmosphere and attitudes of the chapters as they see them during rush."

5. Are good grooming and mode of dress still important in rush? "YES. Good grooming is extremely important for both members and rushees during rush. Clothes must be neat, attractive, and appropriate but not necessarily the newest fashions or fads."

6. What mistakes should be avoided in rush and membership selection? "Loss of objectivity. In order to select lifelong members of Kappa Alpha Theta, the chapter must avoid subjective thoughts and actions such as decisions based on rush week impressions; emotional discussions; or negative discussion."
